GOT MARRIED ON CREDIT.
Lack of Money Was No Impediment to the Student and His Bride.

The city registrar's office in the old courthouse is the scene of one or two marriages daily, and amusing incidents frequently occur. Perhaps the most peculiar case that has come up recently, in account of which was related to a reporter a few days ago, is that of a Harvard student who was in love and without funds. The love conquered his pride, and he concluded to investigate the matter with a view of getting married on credit. He made his appearance at the desk in the registrar's office and inquired if that was the place where he could procure a marriage certificate and also get married. He was informed that it was, and a blank application was handed to him, which he proceeded to fill out.

After this proceeding was gone through with he looked up, and, in a hesitating manner, asked the clerk if he could have a few moments' private conversation with him. He was taken into the anteroom and this is the tale he unfolded. He said that he was deeply in love with a young lady, and that she was also very much in love with him. But her parents had serious objections to the match and did all that was in their power to break it off. They had closed their doors on him, but, notwithstanding this, he succeeded in arranging meetings with his heart's choice, and during one of these he proposed marriage to her and was accepted, he figuring that if they were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony nothing, not even her stern parents, could separate them. They had arranged the details and concluded that the only thing to be done was to get married in secret and then separate until he should graduate from his college. She, of course, would go back to her home and live with her parents as if nothing out of the general run of events had happened.

But the young man, being without funds, was in a dilemma, and the thought of it he could not run his way clear to procure the necessary amount to pay for the certificate and ceremony. His home was in a western state, and he received an allowance from his father only once in six months. It was not due for nearly two months. He concluded that his only course was to try the method referred to above. The Clerk, being a kind hearted man, told the youth that he would perform the ceremony and trust him for the pay, provided the lady in question was of age. The next day the couple put on an appearance and were married. Upon the arrival of the next call from his parent the youth led into the office one day, in his self known and presented the Clerk a $10 bill—Boston Herald.

WATER SNAKE FIGHTS EEL

Terrific Conflict Which Finally Ended In

Did you ever know that there is a deadly strife between a common water snake and an eel? asked the boy. Well, I never knew it until I witnessed a fight between the two. Personally I think the creature that ate the eel. I'm more afraid of it than I am of a snake, and I do not like my chamber when I have to look out on one of my fishing expeditions. I was afraid to touch it, and all I could do was to let it lie in the water. I could not get it off my hook, and I was meditating what to do, when, although unnoticed, I allowed the slimy object to drop down into the water.

In a moment I saw a big water snake make a dive for it. At the first lunge it caught the neck of the eel squarely between its teeth, and I could see it sink its ugly looking fangs into the eel's flesh. I waited anxiously to see the development. With its mouth held still on the eel's neck, the snake, quick as it takes to tell, wrapped its sinuous body around its antagonist's neck in an effort to squeeze it to death. The body of the eel was so sleek, however, and the snake's tail, despite all it could do, would slip down into the water. Time and time again it tried to squeeze the life out of its antagonist, never for an instant relaxing its hold on the eel's neck, but the body of the latter was too slack for it and every time it could snap down. Finally the snake broke, and the eel made good its escape—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Cloth Made From Peat.

Peat cloth can be bleached to snowy whiteness and will dye any color. One of the great advantages of cloth made from peat fiber is that it is entirely antiseptic and possesses properties which render it immune to parasitic organisms. In appearance the finer makes are quite equal to the best tweeds and closely resemble the camel's hair cloth.

"This is your pug dog, madam?"

"Yes, sir."

A GLORIOUS COMBINATION.

The Silver Knight, the acknowledged champion of the silver cause, and the National Watchman, the leading organ of the Populists, consolidated some weeks ago to make common in the interest of the masses against the gold conspirators. That consolidation was the forerunner of the union of the silver men and the Populists which was partly effected by the National Committee of the People's party and the National Silver Conference held at Washington. On this unification the Silver Knight and National Watchman has the following:

The efforts of the banks, the venal press, and the truckling cunctious politicians to confuse the counsels of the people and deprive them of a plan of union against their oppressors has failed. The national committee of the People's party at St. Louis on the 17th of January, 1896, lifted the curtain and pointed the way to union and victory. The 22d of next July at St. Louis, was the date and place appointed for holding the national convention of the People's party. That committee did more. It invited the friends of an independent financial policy for the United States, who on that question are in harmony with the Populist party, to meet in convention on the same day and in the same city where the convention of the People's party will be held. This was the olive branch. This was a patriotic exhibition of country above party. On the 22d of January there assembled at Washington a bimetallic conference of wise and earnest men from every section of our country. They came not for office nor plunder. They came to devise and execute plans for the deliverance of the American people from the thralldom of the money power. They hailed with delight and responded with unanimity to the invitation of the People's party to hold the national convention of the bimetallists at the time and place appointed for the national convention of the People's party. They put forth an address which will be hailed by the American people as a new Declaration of Independence. In that address they set forth the paramount cause of universal distress, and pointed the remedy. In the light of that address, the people can read, in words of living light, that twenty-five years of peace and abundant harvests are not the cause of stagnation and want, but that the money powers are the enemies of progress and prosperity, and are destroying civilization to force the human race back to the slavery, gloom and despair of the Dark Ages.

The glorious declaration of principles followed by organization for effecting a revolution. The money powers, under ordinary circumstances, are difficult in the extreme, but the harvest of wrong and oppression is ripe and the reapers are plenty. All that was required was a rallying point. That has been secured. All who are opposed to the English gold standard, bankers' monopoly of money, and swindling bond debt, will come together. There is nothing now to divide them. The issue was made for them by the Shermans, the Clevelands, the Harrisons, the Reeds and the Carlises. These representatives of the money powers of Europe and America, under the leadership of the great House of Rothschild, are robbing the people of their money, destroying the value of their property, and they proclaim their intention to maintain the gold standard by an unlimited public debt, and reduce the people of the United States to poverty and want. Against such an issue made by the enemies of the people, the POPULISTS, the SILVER men, the FARMERS, the PLANTERS, the LABORERS, the MECHANICS and the PRODUCERS of all description must rally and resist the attack of the enemy. This makes the issue. The people of the United States are attacked in a vital point. The enemy is robbing them of their circulating medium, and loading them with debt, and proposes to continue the war until the masses will submit to servitude and slavery. No other question can be considered while the battle is raging between the money powers and the people of the United States.

Let blind greed take warning! It has proceeded too fast. Its robberies have been too glaring and abrupt. The American people now understand their game, and will strike for liberty. The tricks of the two old parties are known. Tariff agitation can no longer hide the rascality of the combination. There is no difference in their policy of oppression. Cleveland sells bonds to speculators to bug gold for gold gamblers, and imponnd the money of the country into the treasury. Sherman says "Amen," and Reed with his Republican House of Representatives hastens to endorse the scheme. Bonds, bonds, more bonds and less money, is the motto which is inscribed upon the forehead of every servant of Rothschild from Cleveland, Harrison, Sherman and Reed down to the tide waiters who do their dirty work. If the people win, which win they must, the government, now honeycombed with fraud and corruption, and known to the people only by the calamities it inflicts, will be administered by honest men, and will hereafter be known and appreciated for the blessings which it bestows upon all the people of the United States.

All hail to the people, who have resolved to break the shackles of the

When the Silver Knight comes to California, when it is time to go, we are going to California. When it is time to go, we are going to California.

MARRIED.

SHORT-BENNING.—At the Methodist Episcopal Parsonage, Reno, February 4, 1896, by Rev. J. A. Bready, Edward D. Short and Alice E. Benning, both of Wadsworth.

The House Tariff Bill Amended in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, February 4.—The Senate Finance Committee has agreed to report the Tariff bill, an amendment providing for the free coinage of silver. The amendment was suggested by Senator Vest and agreed to by a majority, one, Senator Jones of Nevada, voting with the Democrats for the amendment, and all Republicans present voting against it. Wolcott, the only Republican absentee, was recorded as voting against the amendment. Senator Jones of Arkansas, the only Democratic member not present, was reported as having voted for it. The amendment agreed to is in the exact words of the silver substitute for the Bond bill which passed the Senate on Saturday.

It provides for the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 and directs the immediate coinage into standard dollars of the silver seigniorage in the treasury accumulated by purchases under the Sherman act; it prohibits the issuance of national bank notes of smaller denominations than $10 and directs the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem greenbacks and Treasury notes in either gold or silver, exclusively at the option of the Secretary, and to resume greenbacks.

In the Senate to-day Merrill removed to recommit the "bind Quay" amendment back to the Finance Committee, with instructions to report the original bill and the amendment separately.

The Quay motion went over till the afternoon.

The report on the Tariff bill proved a complete surprise for the silver Republicans and was unfavorably received by them. They will generally support the Quay motion to have the two propositions of the tariff and silver separated.

Perkins said in an interview: "I voted consistently for the silver substitute for the Bond bill in accordance with the wishes of my constituents and even went to the extent of opposing all the amendments offered, to defeat it, but I do not consider myself under obligations to support a measure so evidently intended for the purpose of defeating legislation."

The Tariff bill is an emergency measure, and the revenue it provides for is needed for the support of Government. It is asserted that all Democrats and Populists will vote against the Quay motion. If so, the motion cannot carry and the contest will come directly upon the substitute. Some sound money Democrats are inclined to support the Quay motion, but most of them take the position that they should vote against the motion as a means of killing the Tariff bill.

The House Committee on Ways and Means to-day voted not to concur in the Senate substitute for the House Bond bill.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Oscar Rhodes, ex-Premier of Cape Colony, has arrived in London. He refuses to be interviewed regarding South African affairs.

The Senate Committee on Appropriations has agreed to report the pension appropriation as it came from the House. This bill carries $14,325,820. The Senate Committee added $52,850.

Ex-President Harrison has, in a letter to John K. Gandy, Chairman of the Republican Committee of Indiana, announced that he will not allow his name to be used at the St. Louis Convention.

The Secretary of the Treasury has sent to the House of Representatives a report that in June, 1893, the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds requested that no action be taken regarding the erection of the Postoffice building in San Francisco. In March, 1893, Congress directed the examination of the foundation site. This work was done by two army officers, who reported that for $30,000 the foundation could be made stable. The contracts for the buildings will be let in a short time.

All hail to the people, who have resolved to break the shackles of the

The suit was brought to compel the payment of plaintiff's salary as Superintendent of Public Instruction and Curator of the Museum. The writ was denied, on the ground that the salary is only $1,000 a year and he has already overdrawn it.

The Silver State corrects the misstatement that General A. J. Warner is a free trader. General Warner when in Congress was a Democrat of the Samuel J. Randall school. It is no misstatement, however, to say that Senator Nelson of Minnesota, elected by the Republicans a year ago, voted in the House of Representatives for the Mills bill, yet he is classed as a good Republican because he votes for the gold standard.

M. C. Tilden, who practiced law in Virginia City for several years and established a law office in Sacramento some four or five years ago, died in San Francisco a few days ago. He had an altercation with Clinton L. White some months ago and sued him for $10,000 damages. The jury awarded him one dollar and he had to pay $90 fees to the jury besides costs of court. He was a native of Ohio, 62 years of age.

Concerning Women and Their Suffrage Claims—Interest in the Silver Party.

The past ten days in Washington has witnessed a gathering of noble, fearless, earnest women—the Woman's National Suffrage Association. From all parts of the Union they have journeyed thither. They are striving for a cause as just as that for which our forefathers fought—freedom of the ballot. I listened to their proceedings with interest. Ordinary, parliamentary, conservative and thoughtful. I guarantee that an equal number of men representing any cause, industry or purpose could not come together and conduct a convention with one-half the dignity that characterized this meeting of noble women. There was nothing sacerdotal, no hasty, intemperate remarks. An earnest purpose was in view. They visited both branches of Congress where they were given respectful hearings and the only occurrence to mar the harmony of the hearing was a wrangle between the men, who got excited and called one another liars. Politicians may laugh to scorn with ridicule these women and refer to them as "grannys." The Senate of the United States to-day presents to public view worse burlesques on statesmanship than the most bitter enemies of woman suffrage could ever hope to be exemplified by woman's elevation to that body.

I would sooner trust the destinies of this nation in the hands of the pure, sweet faced, even tempered, conservative, noble women in last week's convention than in the hands of the corrupt politicians, whose power is achieved through the votes of the ignorant men, and whose ascendancy in national affairs is due rather to the power of gold than to the power of truth and right.

That which is good, pure and true in every man was inherited from his mother. If there is ever to be a eutopian government in America it must come through the instrumentality of woman.

Mrs. J. R. Williamson of Austin, representing Nevada before the Woman's National Suffrage Association has been stopping at the Arno in this city. Mrs. Williamson made an address on behalf of Nevada on the evening devoted to the State Presidents, and was attentively listened to. Mrs. Williamson is so well known in Nevada that comment is unnecessary and the excellence of her address equaled her style in the many articles which appear from her gifted pen. Mrs. Williamson in company with her daughter will visit a number of Eastern cities before returning to Nevada.

INTEREST IN THE SILVER PARTY.

The headquarters of the Silver party present a lively scene. Already a large number of letters have been received making inquiries for information, plans of organization and scope of work.

Dr. J. J. Mott, the chairman, is spending a few days in North Carolina prior to his permanent return.

Already a deal is rumored by which it is proposed that Dr. Mott will be a candidate to succeed Pritchard in the U. S. Senate from North Carolina.

NEVADA DELEGATES.

The Committee on Organization in fixing upon the basis of representation in the Silver Convention took the supposed silver strength as a guide.

The original report of the committee was 40 delegates for Nevada. When the committee reported, some objection was made to the small representation of South Dakota, whereupon Senator Stewart moved that 15 of Nevada's delegates be transferred to South Dakota, and it was carried.

It was also discovered that Oklahoma was entirely overlooked, and Senator Stewart thereupon moved that 10 of Nevada's representatives be given Oklahoma, and it was carried.

Waddeburn of Virginia moved that Nevada's delegation be increased 10. It was carried, so Nevada has 25 delegates to the National Silver Convention.

General Hatch of Missouri, who had a tilt with General Field of Virginia, addressed a large audience in Virginia last week. He was introduced to the audience by General Field. The speech was for silver and the new party.

Mr. Newlands has introduced a bill (H. R. 4862) to reimburse the States of California, Oregon and Nevada for monies by them expended on the suppression of the rebellion. This bill was favorably reported and passed the Senate four years ago, but failed in the House in conference, owing to the French secession claims. A strong effort will be made to pass it this year.

He has also introduced a bill (H. R. 4971), granting a pension to W. H. Lane, and (H. R. 4972), for the relief of James A. Moore.

WHY NOT THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY?

Taxpayers Should Not Be Compelled to Use Counsel

EDITOR JOURNAL: I find the following advice in the Gazette of this evening:It occurs to the Gazette that the better way of settling the legality of the action of the board is by law, and not through the columns of the newspaper. Let Mr. Beck, Mr. Thompson or Mr. Anybody else apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari and settle the question for all time, and not pump themselves full of wind to no purpose.It will be remembered that the above is the Gazette editor's comment, after publishing the letter of Attorney-General Beatty to Mr. Thompson, myself and others in relation to the matter of the $1,000 dollar boodle allowed for extra counsel in collecting the V. & T. R. R. delinquent taxes, and the presumption is that the Gazette agrees with the Attorney-General in his conclusion that the order of the boodle board in contracting to pay $1,000 is illegal.

If this is so, then why suggest that Mr. Thompson, myself and somebody else shall go to the trouble and expense of hiring attorneys and have the Supreme Court set the dirty contract aside? Why should not our District Attorney bring the action? Was he not engaged by the good people of this county to prevent the allowance of all illegal claims and jobs?

As a matter of fact Mr. Thompson, myself and several others are getting very tired of putting up our own private funds to hire lawyers and pay court expenses to prevent the boodlers from passing their illegal orders and allowances in favor of the gang.

We pay our share of the expenses to maintain the District Attorney's office, and it is unfair to ask us to put up money as individuals to contest boodle orders and illegal claims with the District Attorney "fornings" us.

PROFESSOR KRALL'S PIANO RECITAL.

A Large and Appreciative Audience at the Opera House.

The theater was well filled last evening by an appreciative audience, the attraction being Professor Krall's eighth annual piano recital given by his pupils for the benefit of the University gymnasium fund. A splendid program had been arranged by Professor Krall, the selections being from classical and standard writers. A Steinway concert grand piano was used and the execution, expression and confidence in rendering the selections as shown by the various performers demonstrated the careful training of their teacher. Each number on the program received the closest attention of the audience and the hearty applause given was indicative of the highest appreciation.

A feature of the evening was the splendid singing of Miss Lottie Lamb and Miss Mabel Stanaway, both of whom had volunteered in aid of the fund. Both young ladies were enthusiastically applauded and received hearty encores.

The recital was a success in every particular, and Professor Krall can well be proud of the good work he has accomplished in the wonderful advance of his pupils as well as the reception accorded him last evening.

The students will realize a neat sum towards the gymnasium fund and they are to be complimented on the management of the affair.

About 200 visitors arrived from Virginia and Carson to attend the recital, returning home at 11 o'clock last night.

A Good Performance.

The performance of "Tina" at the Opera House last evening by the Gracie Plaisted Musical Comedy Company was a grand success and was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Everyone who went to the theater did so with the feeling that an evening of good, solid enjoyment was before them, and not one came away disappointed.

With a play brim full of wit, life and music, Gracie Plaisted and Frank Vergara appearing in the leading parts and with such thoroughly finished artists as support, success is inevitable for the troupe, and mirth, laughter and enjoyment guaranteed to the audience.

Of none of the troupe can adverse criticism be written; they are all artists of merit and praise. Little Nina Cook, the child actress, is a bright little star. Graceful in bearing, pleasing in manner and perfectly at home in her part, she won hearty applause for every appearance.

"Fanchon," a sparkling comedy, will be presented to-night.—Virginia Chronicle.
